This is one of the most disappointing games GameHouse created, I completed the game 3 times just to make the right choices (thanks to Google) to get the Newton achievement. You can't replay a level to change your choice, once it's locked you have to start the game over to change it (which is ridiculous). The graphics is so weak, I had an expectation that it would be good if you look at the main screen. But the people is not in proportion, the story didn't hook me at all, at one point I got super bored and frustrated. Then you get your daily challenge as well, that is just annoying. The game is better without it, I wish I could get my money back because the story just doesn't get better and in my opinion it's not even worth buying. Some of the levels lagged as well, were I had to play a challenge level caring for the animal 20 times just to pass it. I'm not buying the upcoming Dr. Cares, because it's like the game developers ran out of a story and graphic design. I won't even recommend this game to anyone!!
